FireSmart

- While there hasn't been a review to date of how FireSmart principles undertaken on structures in the Cariboo influenced their resilience to this summer's fires, in general, implementing FireSmart principles on structures and the surrounding area have been proven to increase the chances the structure will survive a wildfire. This was also evident in reviews conducted on the Fort MacMurray wildfire.
- There are anecdotal examples of FireSmart principles being effective in preventing structures from catching fire this summer in the Cariboo.
